

Do you believe that...

- you can run your business without IT for a few days?
- you don't have valuable data?
- your systems are fully secure because you make use of cloud systems?

and because you have backups, anti-virus, run vulnerability scans and grasp what is required for information security & privacy, that you are immune to cyber crime?

In fact

1 in 2

businesses experienced a data breach event last year

23 days

is the average time it takes to recover from a ransomware incident

Over half of businesses do not recover from a Cyber Attack

It is much more complex than that

Maintaining firm control of systems and data in this nebulous, ever-changing risk ecosystem is close to impossible...

A new kind of solution is required.
